Nokogiriyama, located in the town of Kyonan, Chiba Prefecture, stands at 329 meters above sea level. The mountain's distinctive name comes from its jagged ridge, which resembles the teeth of a saw. From the summit, visitors can enjoy breathtaking panoramic views of Tokyo Bay, Mount Fuji, and on clear days, even the Boso Peninsula. For those seeking adventure, the "Hell Peek" viewpoint offers a thrilling experience as you gaze down from the edge of a steep cliff. After a lunch made with local ingredients, enjoy tastings of sake and liqueurs, as well as an exhibition of brewing tools at Koizumi sake brewery.
